The left-hand musical score is presented on a grid of 12 staves. Each staff has 12 vertical lines. Vertical grey bars are placed on every other line (lines 2, 4, 6, 8, 10, 12). Black dots are placed on the grid to indicate notes and rests. The notes are distributed across the staves, with some staves containing multiple notes in a single measure, indicating chords. The overall pattern suggests a simple harmonic accompaniment.

The right-hand musical score is presented on a grid of 12 staves, identical in structure to the left hand. It features vertical grey bars on every other line. Only a few black dots are present at the top of the grid, specifically on the first few lines of the first few staves, likely indicating a treble clef and a few initial notes or rests.
