

(2/4)

194 - There Is a Green Hill Far Away

Letra: Cecil Frances Alexander, 1818-1895

Música: John H. Gower, 1855-1922

The left staff of the musical score is filled with a complex arrangement of black dots on a grid. The dots are organized into vertical columns and horizontal rows, forming a pattern that suggests a musical melody. The dots are placed on the grid lines, and their positions vary across the staff, creating a rhythmic and melodic structure. The grid consists of 12 horizontal lines and 24 vertical lines, with the dots primarily concentrated in the upper half of the staff.

The right staff of the musical score is an empty grid, identical in structure to the left staff. It consists of 12 horizontal lines and 24 vertical lines, providing a space for the student to practice the musical notation.