219 – Because I Have Been Given Much

Letra:
Música:

A musical notation staff for guitar, consisting of 12 horizontal lines and a vertical grid of 16 columns. A small black square is positioned above the 10th column. The staff contains several black dots representing notes, primarily concentrated in the 10th and 11th columns, with some notes in the 12th column. The notes are distributed across various string levels, with some appearing on the 1st and 2nd strings in the lower register and others on the 6th string in the higher register.

A musical notation staff for guitar, identical in structure to the left staff (12 horizontal lines, 16 vertical columns). A small black square is positioned above the 10th column. This staff contains a more complex arrangement of black dots representing notes, with a higher density of notes across all 12 strings and various fret positions, particularly in the 10th and 11th columns.
