250 – We Are All Enlisted

Letra: Anon., The New Golden Chain, New York, 1866

Música: William B. Bradbury, 1816–1868

The left page of the musical score consists of ten staves. Each staff contains a series of vertical lines representing notes, with some lines having a black dot at the top. The notes are arranged in a rhythmic pattern across the staves, with some staves having a small square marker at the beginning.

The right page of the musical score consists of ten staves, continuing the notation from the left page. It features the same vertical line notation with black dots and square markers, maintaining the rhythmic structure of the piece.
